PARISH PASTORAL COUNCIL

The Pastoral Council met on Tuesday, May 19th at 8.30pm in the Community centre, Piltown. 9 parishioners have been recently elected to the council along with Fr. Moore. The members are Dominic Dunne, Eileen Long, Helen Nugent, Liam Ryan, Marie Duggan, Seamus Norris, Sinead Coleman, Tadhg McTiernan and John Connolly. Fr. Moore gave an overview on the role of the Pastoral Council. The council is a consultative, leadership group in the Catholic Church. Its purpose is to foster pastoral action, evaluate community needs and plan initiatives that build a vibrant, welcoming faith. Eileen Long then gave a presentation on Safeguarding within the parish and procedures to be followed if any concerns arise. Seamus Norris then gave an overview on his publication entitled "Together our Parish", a programme to bring together the people of the parish on a journey of progression- Spiritually and Liturgically. Meetings of the Council will take place at a 4-to-6-week interval.

PILTOWN MEN'S SHED

The Piltown Men's Shed visited Glasnevin cemetery and the National Botanic gardens on Wednesday, May 20th. The trip was also open to Iverk show members and friends. A total of 36 people set off for Dublin by train. After a hearty breakfast on arrival to Dublin, the group made their way to Glasnevin cemetery by Dublin bus. The group had booked a private tour at 1pm. The tour guide was excellent and very knowledgeable. Graves of some of our patriots such as Daniel O Connell, Michael Collins and Countess Markievicz who all shaped Ireland's fight for independence were visited. The underground crypt of Daniel O Connell and his family which is directly under the O Connell tower was also visited. The group then visited the Botanic gardens which is a 10-minute walk from the cemetery. The national botanic gardens is an oasis of calm and beauty and contains important collections of plant species from around the world. Afterwards the group made their way back to Hueston station for the 6:30pm return train home.
